EXPLORE OUR BACKROADS & TRAILS

The secret is out! our residents are really quite friendly!

Barn Quilt Trail

Take a scenic drive to discover these roadside gems – colourful quilt designs featured on rural properties – and enjoy the countryside.

Thomas Hayes Ecological Reserve

Thomas Hayes farmed this land from the 1880's until the 1960's. In the early 1980's, 58 hectares were set aside as a park and wildlife refuge area. The area has been preserved in the name of Thomas Hayes; in a joint lease by Armstrong Spallumcheen from the Ministry of Environment, Lands and Parks. This area is home to a wide diversity of plants, birds and animals.

SAFETY PRECAUTIONS

No dogs allowed. Drinking water is not available. Please stay on the trails and be aware that bears have been seen in the reserve.

Mount Rose Swanson

Rose was the name of the first white child who was born in this area in 1862 to her pioneer mother, Catherine (O'Hare) Schubert. Rose Schubert married Mr. Henry Swanson.

SAFETY PRECAUTIONS

Bears are seen in the area. No water is available. Allow approximately 3 hours if hiking all the trails. Good runners or hiking boots are recommended. Take a camera for the great views!

Farm Markets

The Winter Farmers' Market is held indoors at the Odd Fellows Hall Saturday mornings November thru April. The outdoor Armstrong Farmers' Market at the Fairgrounds is held the last Saturday in April thru October. New this year is the Artisan and Farmers Market held Sundays 11AM - 3PM from July 7 to August 25 at Farmstrong Cider Co.
